The custom of wearing academic gowns, caps, and hoods dates back to about the twelfth century and probably had its inception in France where the wearing of the cap and gown marked the formal admission of the "Licentiate" to the body of Masters. The cold buildings of medieval times, in which the masters were obliged to teach, required caps and hoods which naturally were patterned after the prevailing dress of the times. Since a large number of the scholars were clerics, the robes resembled more the appearance of the monks' dress. The hoods were fashioned after the monks' cowl and were attached to the gown so that they might be drawn over the head. Later when the hood was displaced by the skull cap as a head covering, it was made separately from the gown. The skull cap evolved into a pointed cap which is evidenced today in the mortar board with its tassel.

With such a development it is natural that there would be a great variety of styles and usages. In order to have uniformity, an Intercollegiate Code for Academic Costumes has been adopted by practically all of the leading institutions of learning, with the result that today the gown and hoods of this country are a badge of learning symbolic of the degree attained.

This code calls for three types of gowns, viz., the Bachelor's, Master's and Doctor's. The Bachelor's gown is made with an open or closed front, and has long pointed sleeves. The Master's gown is an open front garment with extremely long closed sleeves, the arms protruding through a slit at the elbow. The ends of the sleeves are square and are further characterized by an arc of a circle appearing near the bottom. The Doctor's gown is also an open front garment but the sleeves are round bell-shaped, the length of the arm. There are wide, black velvet panels or facings down the front with three velvet bars upon each sleeve. The velvet may be the color of the degree instead of black.

While the types of gowns evolved are considered to be an improvement on other styles, it is in the hood that the American genius is personified. Simple, yet beautiful, each degree, Bachelor's, Master's, Doctor's, is represented by a distinct shape or form. The Bachelor's hood is the smallest of the three, the velvet edging is narrower and less of the lining is exposed. The Master's hood is the same length as the Doctor's, the velvet edging somewhat wider than that of the Bachelor's, and more of the lining can be seen. The Doctor's hood is easily recognized by the width of the velvet edging, the wide panels at either side and the full exposure of the lining.

The lining of the hood indicates the colors of the institution conferring the degree, and the color of the velvet trimmings, the degree.

The navy blue gowns trimmed with scarlet, worn by some members of the Medical Faculty, indicate Fellowship in the American College of Surgeons. The black gowns trimmed with multi-colored velvet, worn by some members of the Dental Faculty, indicate membership in the American College of Dentists.

HONORARY DEGREES

Honorary degrees were first conferred at the University of Detroit in 1916. They have generally been conferred during May or June commencements, though in October, 1927, they were also conferred at the Golden Jubilee; in November, 1950, at the Gabriel Richard Lecture; in April, 1961, at the Convocation, "Creative Minds in the Crisis of Freedom" and on a few other non-June commencement occasions.

THE STAR SPANGLED BANNER . . . . . Francis Scott Key

*O! say can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming,
Whose broad stripes and bright stars through the perilous fight,
O'er the rampart we watched, were so gallantly streaming?
And the rocket's red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there;
O! say, does that star spangled banner yet wave.
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?*
